Veterans Pass Constitution, Form Own Association

The first veteran organization in San Francisco State College history, the Associated Veteran Students, has been officially formed this week following the ratification of the organization's constitution Tuesday, March 12.

This association, linking well over 400 State veterans into a body, was created for the purpose of integrating incoming and returning ex-GI's into student body life and activities. As an aid to the veterans themselves, it also helps in matters pertaining to housing, studies, transportation, and school and downtown vet administrations.

Meeting Moves Fast

Last Monday Dean David Cox called a meeting of all vets for the express purpose of bringing together all rival factions, who, if they so desired, could unite to form one organization that would have both unity of purpose and action. Charles Guichard, acting as student chairman, read the constitution as proposed by a committee chosen at the Vets meeting of March 5. Discussion was curtailed because of limited time and lack of knowledge of parliamentary procedure. The constitution was then hurriedly ratified.

Discontent with the hasty proceedings became evident among many in attendance, and the whole question of the legality of the ratification was brounght into the open by a letter written and posted upon the vets bulletin board.

Finally Re-Ratified

In order to quell any doubts concerning the "railroading through" of the constitution, a special assembly of the AVS called for the following day, Tuesday, March 12. This time each article was thoroughly discussed and acted upon. One amendment to Article III was made, reading, "Upon the petitioning of ten per cent of the membership, impeachment proceedings may be brought. A two-thirds vote will then cause removal from office."

Thus all objection were withdrawn and the constitution of the AVS unanimously re-ratified. Dr. George Gibson and Dr. Carlos Lastrucci were elected joint faculty sponsors prior to the assembly's closing.

Next meeting, involving nominations for officers, will be held Tuesday, March 19 at noon.

Frosh Rally Today Boosts '49er Hop

Rally today noon in the Women's gym! Of course, it's to spread the word of the Frosh '49er Hop, slated for this evening at the Colonial Room in the St. Francis hotel. The rally program has been organized by Rita Kroner.

To get the crowd in that "way back then" mood, the rally will get off to a roaring start with snappy songs by the Barber Shop Trio, formerly the Faculty Quintet, composed of Dr. William Knuth, Dr. Somerville Thomson and Mr. Harold Hollingsworth. The Music Fed is sponsoring this star attraction. A square dancing demonstration will follow the trio.

As no State rally would be complete without a tap dance, Lucy Ann Morrow will tap out some of her favorite numbers. For the benefit of those who like to swoon to music, Dave Huenergardt will take everyone "out of this world" with some of the dreamiest solos in his long repertoire.

State's "Ella May Morse," Audie Cervesi, will wind up the rally program with her inimitable rendition of "You Were Right, Baby" and "Haunted Town." Those who have never heard Miss Cervesi sing are in for a real treat.

Music Fed Plans Gala St. Patrick's Party, Dance

Irish guys and gals will be the center of attraction at the Music Federation St. Patrick's party and dance in Annex B9 next Friday evening, March 22, from 8 to 12.

Festivities for the occasion, being planned by Ed Doty and Rose Lewis, will include Irish games and entertainment, as well as dancing to recordings. Admission is free to Fed members and 25 cents to non-members.

Barbara Warren remarked that a good time has been planned for everyone,

Frosh Class Stages 49'er Hop Tonite at 9; Finalists Announced For Miss Nob Hill, Mr. Barbary Coast

The class of '49, will lead State back into the pre-war social swing with its traditional Frosh Hop tonight at 9 o'clock in the Colonial Room of the St. Francis Hotel with Ray Hackett's band providing the music. A semi-formal affair, the men will wear suits, and the women will wear formals.

AnnounceWinners

Announcement of the winners of the "Miss Nob Hill" and "Mr. Barbary Coast" contest will be a feature of the hop. Finalists in the contest are Retta Emmick, Bernice Dunnelly, Marge Shirer, and Doris Phillips for "Miss Nob Hill," and Maury Flynn, Arthur Blum and Walt Suggs for the title of "Mr. Barbary Coast." The contestants, nominated by the general student body for their neatness of dress, personality and poise, received the majority of nominations.

Ticket Sales

Tickets selling for $2.25 with student body cards, and $3.00 without, have been on sale at a booth in the Co-op throughout the week, and are selling quite rapidly, according to Miss Jean Spaulding, chairman of the dance committee. Other members of the committee are Herb Patnoe, in charge of the band committee; Bob Rosenberg and Marilyn Stenson, posters and publicity. There were also about 25 other members of the class who volunteered their services for selling tickets putting up posters and other general preparations.

The patrons and patronesses are Mr. and Mrs. T. Ellsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Baker, Mr. and Mrs. W. Irwin, and Mr. George Gibson.

Newmans Plan Picnic In Muir Woods Sunday

Members of the Newman Club will picnic in Muir Woods Sunday, March 17, meeting at the Buchanan Street College entrance at 11:30 a. m.

Today's noon meeting at the Sienna clubhouse will reveal additional details.

Warren Signs Appropriation

Final assurance that State's $3,436,000 building program will become a reality came Wednesday when Governor Earl Warren affixed his signature to the $154,000,000 State building program appropriation bill, passed several weeks ago by the legislature.

There was little doubt that Governor Warren would sign the bill, for he ardently has supported it, but the actual signing brought a sense of relief to officials and friends of State college who have engaged in a seven-year struggle to obtain funds for constructing an entirely new college plant on the 58-acre Lake Merced campus site.

The projects to be constructed under the $154,000,000 appropriation bill are listed according to priority, and under present plans they will be built in that order. The San Francisco State College prorates near the top in priority among the Department of Education listings. It is expected that actual construction will get under way as soon as plans and specifications for the ten buildings are completed.

Mitchell Resigns As Vice President, Position Now Open

Helena Mitchell, vice-president of the Associated Students of San Francisco State College, announced last Wednesday that she is leaving school and will be forced to resign from her position on the executive board. Miss Mitchell will leave within a month on an extended tour through the eastern part of the United States, "to take life easy."

This resignation leaves the position of vice-president open for the remainder of the term. Those desiring to petition for this position should contact Meta Johnson at the student body office as soon as possible.

Scholarship Is Offered

Alpha Omega, women's service sorority, is offering a one-year scholarship covering tuition and fees to any woman student in need of financial aid. The student must have completed one semester of college and have at least a 1.8 grade point average.

This scholarship is given in order to allow more participation on the part of the chosen student in college activities and organizations.

Frosh Petition for Class Offices; Elections Is Set for March 27

Freshmen election for the offices of vice-president, secretary, and treasurer will be held Wednesday, March 27. On this date votes may be placed during the hours of 9 to 3 in the student body office.

Petitions for candidates will be accepted prior to the election during the period March 18-22 inclusive. These petitions may be obtained from either Jean Spaulding, freshman president, or Dean Mary A. Ward.

"The candidate rally will take place at 12 noon, March 25, in Annex A12, the Little Theatre," announced Miss Spaulding. "We hope that there will be a great number of candidates and that every freshman will take part in the election."

A candidate for office must have a "C" average and must be either a high or low freshman. The positions to be filled were previously held by Bill Clark and Jim McCann, now with the armed forces.

Burnett Explains Credential Plan

An important meeting of all students interested in the general secondary credential will be held next Wednesday, March 20, in room 210 at 12:10.

Dr. R. Will Burnett will explain the general pattern of the program offered at the college, will review the procedures to be followed in applying and working for the credential.

THORP

Junior Was Happy, But Now He's Forlorn!

Junior was happy. He had just learned that there were several hundred men on campus this term. Junior had been anticipating this moment all the six dreary semesters of his freshman year.

At last he could associate with his own kind. Now he could play poker without having twenty-three wild cards in the deck besides the joker. Now he could bum cigarettes from men, instead of having women bumming them from him. At last he could tell a dirty joke to some one who would appreciate it and laugh loudly the while, instead of slapping his face.

Shares Happiness

Junior was very happy. He decided to share his happiness with his darling Mary, but on approaching the lovely creature found her swooning at a handsome veteran. Junior soon discovered that she wanted no part of him at any price (even 100 to 8) and moved away disconsolately.

Junior was chagrined, but deciding it was merely one of those strange coincidences which makes life so interesting, he tripped off in search of Alice, his true love. Spying his beloved from afar, he let out a glad cry of welcome and hastened to her side. Alice viewed him coldly, as though he were a caterpillar in the salad of life, informed him that she had a pressing engagement with an ex-major and left.

Now Junior's Bitter

Junior was bitter. After quickly swallowing a half-pound of sugar he descended on his ex-fiancee, Myrtle. Myrtle, however, was deep in a discussion of acetylene welding with an old flame from Marinship. She thrust Junior aside with a curse.

Junior was furious! He swore a mighty oath and slouched moodily down to Annex C where he spent the rest of the afternoon brooding about the beauties of Mills College.

LOU RUBIN

Writer Says, "AH," Doctor Snorts, "BAH"

I have long enjoyed a peculiar dislike of doctors. As a matter of fact I take great delight in speaking derisively of anything in a white coat. Accordingly, when my constitution so degrades itself that a visit to one of those omnipotent monsters is necessary, I am filled with despair. I procrastinate the event as long as possible, and then miserably drag myself to the ophidian medicos. Recently besieged with a bout of violent headaches, I at last ventured to the downtown office of a man who some school has jokingly given the title of doctor.

Doc Meets Lou

Arriving on the minute of my appointment, I spent my first half hour in the doctor's foyer. I passed the time by observing the receptionist's legs, the master's seventeen beautifully framed degrees and a portrait of Pasteur.

Eventually a yellow light on the receptionist's desk began to perform some peculiar gyrations and the receptionis raised a long finger in my direction and imperiously motioned me in. I entered the stadium in a mould of silence, and after a short hike reached the doctor's desk, which was approximately the size of a pool table. I stood at attention until he snapped, "Well." Stammeringly I explained my malady. With an expressionless face he ordered me to remove my outer clothing. Somewhat perplexedly I obeyed. I wondered where he thought my head was. I noted with satisfaction that I had my new green striped shorts on; however, the color scheme was lost on the specialist who seemed to be admiring his beautifully manicured fingernails. I returned to the desk and smiled invitingly. He took the inevitable stethoscope from its case and contacted my bosom.

"Say Ah."
"Aw."
"Ah!"
"Auw."
"Ah-Ah!-AH!"
"Ah."

Lou's Chest Tapped

My musical talent must have shown itself, because for the next five minutes he looked as if he was

"One-zy, Two-zy Love You-zy"

By Rita Kroner

"One-zy Two-zy, I Love You-zy." Yes, that's the name of one of our so-called popular tunes of the day. How anyone can enjoy such obvious trash is beyond understanding. Songs like the aforementioned are a disgrace to the musical integrity of the American people.

Many people feel that the American public, as a whole, are not familiar with the great works of music. They have neglected such great men as Beethoven, Bach and Brahms. They also believe that the radio, which is a powerful medium for the realm of music, should have more programs of a classical nature.

Jazz Unappreciated

I am inclined to agree with these crusaders for musical knowledge, but in addition I must voice an appeal for the unappreciated, underrated music known as jazz. Perhaps many will consider it slanderous for me to mention jazz music in connection with the classics, and for them I will qualify this connection.

To be brief, classical music is a creative, aesthetic, expressionistic, highly spiritual form of music. Jazz in sound is completely different from the classics, but if we take those same words—creative, aesthetic, expressionistic — which were used to identify the classics, we find that they also apply to the qualities in jazz.

Expresses Emotions

A good jazzman plays what he feels. It may be considered an expression of his emotions. This type of music is called non-commercial. Just as the average person does not derive any enjoyment from a Beethoven symphony, the average person would receive "Ostrich Walk" by Kid Reyna without enthusiasm. This reaction is due to lack of genuine understanding, which can only be remedied by more extensive musical education.

So until we have a greater understanding for the great things of music we will be obliged to listen to such masterpieces as "One-zy Two-zy, I Love You-zy."

Typical of the renewed life at State dances this term is the above picture of the mad rush to buy tickets at the Phi Eta Chi dance.

BLUM'S BULLSESSION

Names N' News At Buchanan Heights

Let's start today's column by hopping a ride on State's Marriage-Go-Round . . . and merrily reaching for the ring are Rita O'Neil, Music Fed prexy, Dick Mac Clure, Soph prexy, and "Tee" Tarleton, and all on June 15.

Idly watching State's "Passion Under the Palm Society" at work and at play last week were a few more returning vets. Starry-eyed and vaguely disconcerted were Vince Amendola, the male counterpart of Elsa Maxwell three years ago, and Johnny Gray, back from Alaska to resume his composing and arranging career, Ed Borrup, once a State light, has just re-enrolled also—and we're well on the way to the 1600 mark!

Annex C'ceing

The lads in the Music Alley are giving diminutive Miss Ida Vee Hiatt a bad time of it, no foolin'. Virtually obscured by anything over three feet, Miss Hiatt was forced into sitting on top of the desk to be seen a few days back. But the irepressible lady quickly assumed the pose of a star witness and then purred, "Well, what'll ya have, boys?"

Most ardent reader and critic of the Gater is Phil Doran, late of the Navy Corps, who weekly submits a typewritten critique and thus, m'readers we're kept on the ball—Check this, willya? Richard Leland Salvarezza, feaful of the classroom tribulations of a long name, has just changed his monicker to Richard Willian Leland! After all, what's in a name? Bulletin: The "Friends of Jack Pilieri Society" have just announced that their man is now free of the shackles of any and all Brooklyn redheads and is open to any and all feminine offers—any bids? Dick Murray has requested us to announce that No outside block sweaters are to be worn on campus. This is a State tradition, fellahs . . . and so is a clean balcony! The three refuse cans are there for a purpose. Let's keep the lawn free for the Physical Culture kids don't relish lying on "Relish!"

The "Rock," State's distant dorm, opened its masculine doors the other eve to Student Body Prexy, Meta Johnsen, Marian Honar, and Louise Rogotto. The hosts included Art Whnarr, Joe Ford, Jim Massey, Bob Smith, Denton Wynn, and Phil Cochran. Besides their social life, the "Rock" inmates are contemplating a ball club for intramural play.

Of Guys N' Gals

Charlie Guichard was chairman of the first AVS mass meeting and with Dexter Pike, Bob De Stephano, Wanda Kerr, Ed Smith, and Marne Camp, is the driving force behind the new Veterans Association—and Margaret Shearer and her sister's combined beauty have taken many of the aforementioned vets by storm as has the Latin Lovely, Juanita Garcia—note Uncle Tom Collingwood's comment on the Co-op noon line, "What are they feedin', 'vittles or nylons?' . . . thanks to Dawn Strohm for the low-down on the incoming Frosh leaders—which leads us to a reminder of the Frosh Hop this eve . . . Elm Roelling, now in O. D.'s, leaves soon for Germany as a P. E. instructor . . . Prexy Jean Smith's "Original 13" service organization now proudly boasts a powahf'l "C" average—and these days, that's no joke, son, that's no joke!

Harry Erlich's yearbook, the Franciscan, will soon hit the presses weeks ahead of schedule—add one more ex-Wac to the list, blonde, blue-eyed Dot Dithlefsen —closing note to today's Bullsession is a tip to keep an eye peeled for Martha Lyon, formerly an interviewer with the Gallup Poll, who meets the most interesting people. Last week 'twas a major in the Chinese Army! Next week—who knows?

SPORT DOPE

By Scott Hope

Whoever said that ping pong and tennis did not get along too well together had not had the pleasure of knowing Jolting Joe Woolfson. Joe is top seeded in the current table tennis tourney. That, m' buckos, is not all. Joe is one of the finest tennis-ters in this neck of the woods. At the present time he is performing for the Parkside Tennis Club against such sterling clubbers as Ed Alloo, Don Lowenbien, and a good many others. At this writing Joe is undefeated in either singles or doubles (with partner Norman Brooks).

Bill Kennerley is wandering around the campus sporting a broken thumb, incurred when Bill held his hands too high on the handle in attempting to bunt an inside pitch. 'Tis tough, m'lad.

Frank Pulizzi is currently carressing the little round ball for a .300 average for Cooper-Varni in the Rec League.

The sight of Jack Merwin on the campus brings back a lot of memories. Jack was a member of the wackiest junior varsity football team State ever had. Such characters as Jack, Skip McGuire, Bogo Keller, Norb Shields, Lou Posich, and some screwball named Scott Hope fooled around too much to win many games, but there were many laughs.

I was the brunt of one amusing incident. I was playing center, and following the first scrimmage play of the game, decided that I did not like the position of the ball. Instead of calling the officials as I should have, I picked it up and turned it over. Promptly the entire line hit me. We lost a down and I lost a couple of teeth. C'est la guerre! . . .we used to drive to our games in an old battered Model "A" that belonged to Lou Posich. The odds were 5 to 1 on each game we would not make it . . . twice we didn't.

Gators Meet Spartans Tomorrow; Tangle with Gaels on Tuesday

Hoping to keep an unbeaten record clear, San Francisco State meets San Jose State tomorrow and St. Mary's Tuesday. Tomorrow's game will be at ocean View diamond at 2:30, while the Gators will travel to Moraga for the Gael tilt.

NORB FERREIRA
Probable Starter

Gator coach Hal Harden will select his starting pitchers from Red Dunn, Irv Edstrom, and Norb Ferreira. Dunn, who has had more experience, will probably get the nod against the Spartans, and Ferreira is expected to start against St. Mary's.

Three Vets Back

The only veterans in the Spartan lineup are Jack Marcipan and George Smith from last year's nine, and George Wehner, first baseman from 1941. Fred Lindsey or Jerry Moore will hurl for the Garden City Club, which opens its season against St. Mary's today.

To reach Ocean View, take car "M" to end of line, and walk one block north.

Last year the Spartans beat the Gators 11 to 4 and 10 to 7 to avenge two lop-sided poundings in 1944.

St. Mary's, who lost to Stanford 11 to 3 and trounced Santa Clara 9 to 5, boasts two former all-city pitching stars, Moon Mullins from Commerce and Jack Rial of St. Peter's. Mullins, who has had additional experience with the Coast Guard Surf Riders and once held the Seals to a 2 to 1 decision, will throw against the Gators.

Grid Stars Play

With All-American Herman Wedemeyer patrolling center field, the Gael lineup contains numerous names familiar to football filberts. Spike Cordiero and Ed Ryan, all-coast selections, play infield, while Vic Cuccia, Hal Stanford, and Ed Piedmonte cavort in the outer pastures. Gridders Ray White and Jack Valliquette are also on the club.

This marks the first meeting between the two clubs since 1943, when Jack Stout held the Gators to one lonely hit by Ed Russel in pitching the Gaels to a 5 to 0 victory.

Probable batting orders:
S. F. State—Pulizzi, ss; Jones, lf; Quartini, cf; Cox, rf; Moy or Kieper, c; Bill, 2b; Schultz, 1b; Marcoulis, 3b; Dunn, Ferreira, or Edstrom, p.

Gators Beat SFJC 9 to 4

HARRISON FIELD, March 9—San Francisco State made it 27 wins in a row over SFJC by pounding out a 9 to 4 victory over their cross-town rivals here today. The Rams out-hit State 8 to 5 and made a triple play, but made seven costly errors.

The Gators broke a scoreless tie in the fifth when Gene Cox doubled to bring in three runs. Armand Quartini's double and a single by Ken Moy drove in three more in the seventh. Two errors by Sherril Houghton, Ram short-stop, and Quartini's single accounted for State's final three runs in the eighth inning.

After being blanked by Irv Edstrom, who received credit for the victory, for five innings, the Jaycees scored once in each of the last four frames.

Co-op Manager Startles Campus By Announcing Breakfasts

Establishment of a breakfast counter in the student Co-op is a possibility of the near future if good student patronage is assured, according to Miss Gertrude Luehning, Co-op manager.

Breakfast would be served from 8 to 10 a. m. daily, with student help in constant attendance. The varied menu would include hot and cold cereals, fruits and juices of all kinds, toasts, snails, doughnuts, hot milk and hot chocolate. As soon as available, a grill for eggs and breakfast meats will be purchased.

"Having been a college student myself not too long ago, I suspect that many students with 8 o'clock classes do not prepare breakfasts for themselves," Miss Luehning said. "College men and women need more calories than can be supplied in two meals a day."

A new $800 dishwashing machine has been purchased by the Co-op to insure clean dishes for student use, and has been installed by an expert in the field.

Reduction of prices include soup at seven cents a bowl and sandwiches at ten cents each. "Although we have greatly reduced our prices, the quality of our food remains the same," Miss Luehning concluded.

Seniors Mu t Exam: F. Cave

All graduating seniors are required to pass with a satisfactory grade an examination in United States history and American institutions, announced Dr. Floyd A. Cave, chairman of the examination committee.

Before being approved for graduation, students must demonstrate a knowledge of "the salient facts and movements in the historical development of the United States, of American constitutional principles and ideals, and of the general features and functional activities of the United States government," Dr. Cave said.

The examination is scheduled for 9 o'clock Saturday morning, April 27, in room 210 Anderson Hall.

Gater Staff Tours Studio

Members of Dr. E. E. Cassady's journalism classes made a tour of the NBC studios at 420 Taylor Street last Tuesday afternoon. Differences between editing news for radio broadcasts and writing for a newspaper were explained by Mr. Bert Silen, news editor.

The students were conducted to the news room with its various teletype machines where they viewed behind-the-scene news editing, and then to the traffic department where programming and technical information is handled.

State Acquires Bus; PE Dept. Gets First Call on Services

A new 33-passenger Ford bus was delivered to the college late Wednesday afternoon, according to Comptroller L. C. Nee.

The bus was acquired at a cost of $4,500, primarily to provide a means of transportation to and from the new campus. Until now many of the classes and activities scheduled for the Lake Merced site have been hampered or even cancelled because of the difficulty of obtaining fast, reliable transportation.

Addition Possible

Although the bus will be used by the college, the P. E. department, because of its numerous activities at the new campus, will have first call on its services and will probably use it the most. The college is currently considering the purchase of another bus to provide more adequately for the field trips and tours which are made by the various classes during a semester's work.

This bus, which was the last one assembled by the San Leandro Ford plant before the General Motors strike cut off the supply of prefabricated chassis, has been needed for the past two months, but because of technical difficulties it was not available until this week.

Appropriation

The money for the bus was appropriated from the Motor Vehicle Purchase Fund (chapter 644, item 250, Statutes of 1945) which provides a fund of a quarter million dollars for the purchase of rolling stock by state institutions.

Driver Needed

Since the bus has no driver, Mr. Nee has appealed to any qualified student who is interested in the job to interview him at once.

hearing a Bach symphony. Finally he stopped, and lovingly replaced the stethoscope to its case. Now he began jabbing his finger into my anatomy. Everything was all right while he stayed around my bony chest, but when he reached my abdomen he pronounced me the unique owner of twin navels. This last seemed to do the trick, and he ordered me to re-assemble my clothing and handed me a prescription blank covered with hieroglyphics. I made a mental note to put an icebag on my stomach the next time I got a headache, and wandered back to the foyer. The receptionist looked at me blankly and gave me the rent bill for the month. I stared at it as she smartly remarked, "Goodbye."
